I was satisfied with the quality of communication and interaction between partners before the meeting

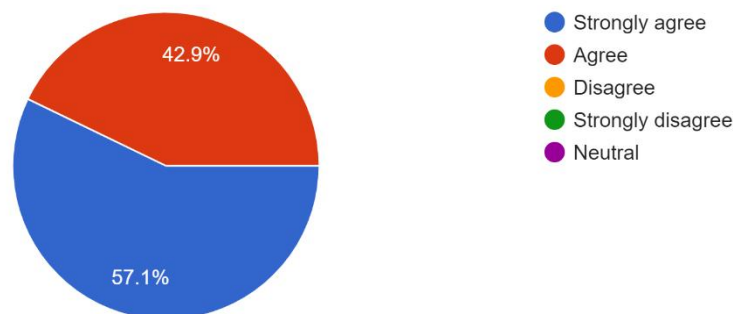

14 responses

- It seems that all respondents were satisfied with quality of communication and interaction between partners before the workshops, with 57.1% strongly agreeing in this aspect.

I was satisfied with the meeting venue and arrangements.

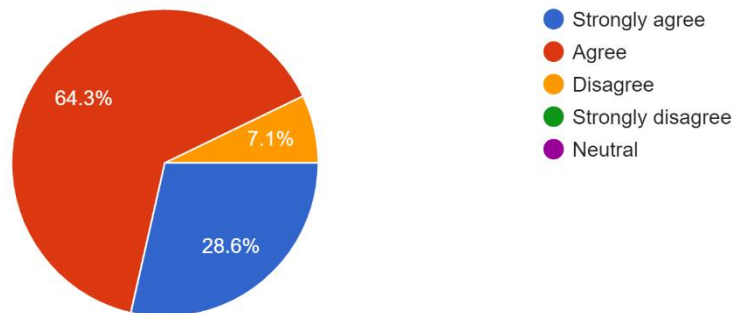

14 responses

- All respondents were satisfied with the meeting venue and arrangements, as reflected by 57.1 % of responses to this question.

I was satisfied with the hotel accommodation and transportation.

14 responses

- A majority (about 92.1%) of the respondents were satisfied with the hotel accommodations and transportation. The following comments section also reveals that many respondents have commented positively about the arrangements and schedule was well planned. Also, they had a good opportunity to meet everyone in the project, with a face-to-face explanation of the WPs. However, 7.1% have reported their dissatisfaction with those facilities. This could be due to the tight schedule of the meeting and less options on hotel rooms and prices that were available for participants to choose from as mentioned in the comments section.

Additional comments

Nil.

It was good to meet everyone involved in the project. It was also good to get a face-to-face explanation of all steps/WPs.

Everything worked well.

It is necessary to add some more questions which reveal detail information or problems to develop the HE international relations.

No need to worry about many facilities for short period of time.

I think that it should be within the average level.

Honored to have chance of attending the Kickoff meeting at Bologna University, the world oldest university.

It was a bit tight schedule.

The accommodation was nice. But it would have been better if participants had more options for hotel rooms and prices.

Very good arrangement.
